The Different Dahlia Forms

Dahlias come in a beautiful variety of forms, each with its own unique charm and character. Understanding the different forms can help you choose the perfect blooms for your garden, bouquets, and style.

1

ANEMONE

Characterized by a center of contrasting disc florets surrounded by a single or double row of petals.

2

BALL

Perfectly rounded blooms with tightly curled petals that form a globe shape.

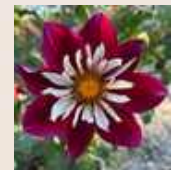

3

CACTUS

Long, narrow petals that are often twisted or rolled, giving the bloom a spiky, starburst appearance.

4

COLLARETTE

A unique form with a distinct collar of short petals around the center disc, and a single row of longer outer petals.

5

FORMAL DECORATIVE

Fully double blooms with broad, overlapping petals that are symmetrical and refined.

6

INFORMAL DECORATIVE

Fully double blooms with a more relaxed arrangement of petals, often with a looser, natural look.

7

LACINIATED DAHLIA

Deeply cut or fringed petals that give the bloom a delicate, feathery appearance.

8

SEMI-CACTUS

A cross between decorative and cactus forms—curved or pointed petals that are wider at the base and taper to a point.

9

STELLAR

Star-shaped blooms with long, narrow petals that are flat and radiate evenly from the center.

10

WATERLILY

Elegant blooms with broad petals that are often slightly pointed and arranged in layers around the center.

WHY WE LOVE GROWING NEW VARIETIES

Every season begins with anticipation. Some dahlias impress us with extraordinary color. Others capture our hearts because they bloom endlessly, hold beautifully in bouquets, or simply make us smile every time we walk through the garden.

Adding a new variety is one of the greatest joys of gardening. Each season becomes an opportunity to discover something you've never grown before—and perhaps find a bloom you'll treasure for years to come.

Every season tells a different story.

PLANT SOMETHING NEW. WATCH IT FLOURISH. SHARE THE BEAUTY.

Their incredible size and beauty come with special growing needs to help them reach their full potential.

LONGER GROWING SEASON

AA dahlias typically take more time to mature and bloom. Expect about 110–130 days from planting to first bloom.

UNFORGETTABLE BEAUTY.

CARE TIPS FOR AA DAHLIAS

STAKE FOR SUCCESS

These large blooms are very heavy and can cause stems to bend or break. Use strong stakes or support systems early in the season to keep plants upright.

PLANT IN THE GROUND

AA dahlias need room to grow and strong root development. They do not perform well in pots or raised beds where space and soil depth are limited.

RICH, DEEP SOIL

Provide well-draining, nutrient-rich soil with plenty of organic matter. Deep soil encourages strong roots and vigorous growth.

CONSISTENT WATERING

Keep soil evenly moist, especially during bud development. Deep watering is best—water at the base, not over the foliage.

PINCH & PRUNE

Pinch regularly to encourage branching and more blooms. Remove side buds if you want larger, showier flowers.

Worth the Wait

With a little extra time and care, AA dahlias reward you with some of the most magnificent blooms of the season. Their grandeur in the garden and in arrangements is simply unmatched.

Give them the support they need—and they'll take your breath away.
